

Ranger for a Day

Calling all naturalists, eco-tourists and adventurers!

If you are looking for an unparalleled experience of the Belizean jungle alongside a local Mayan ranger, then consider joining Ya'axché Conservation Trust's Ranger for a Day patrol, you will join an official Ya'axché patrol of the 15,000-acre Golden Stream Corridor Preserve (GSCP). This unique experience will give you the opportunity to play an important role in the protection of this vital forest corridor.

As an honorary ranger, you will contribute to the daily wildlife logs; record key species of mammals and birds along the riverside trail and learn how our rangers detect signs of hunting. You will hone your own detective skills as you learn to identify jaguar, puma and tapir tracks, identify the unique call of the Montezumas oropendola and spot hummingbirds, toucans and curassows.

Your boots will get muddy and you should prepare to get sweaty but after a morning of adventure, you are invited to enjoy a refreshing dip in the Golden Stream River, the lifeblood of the Golden Stream Corridor Preserve. To be a ranger for the day, you will need to be fit and ready for a hike in hot and humid conditions!

Contribution to conservation

We do not ask for a fee but rather a contribution to the salaries of the ranger team. For the riverside walking patrol we suggest US$30pp and when the river is high enough for the river patrol down the Golden Stream we suggest US$45pp. At least two visitors are required for a patrol.

Contributions or donations in excess of this are greatly appreciated, 100% goes straight to the ranger salaries.
